MS Excel stands out as an incredibly powerful and widely-used tool for data analysis and reporting. Its unparalleled capability to handle and manipulate extensive datasets is truly remarkable. This tool has become the backbone for numerous organizations, primarily due to its cost-effectiveness, making it readily available without imposing substantial financial burdens. Despite its widespread use, a considerable number of individuals lack comprehensive knowledge about the diverse functions and features that can potentially save them significant time in data management and report generation. Furthermore, only a minority possess the necessary expertise to leverage Excel as a business intelligence tool, enabling the creation of dynamic Excel dashboards. These dashboards empower users and management to derive valuable insights and make informed decisions in the blink of an eye.

CHRM College, a recognized leader in training for over a decade, specializes in offering programs designed to enhance organizational knowledge and elevate the skills of employees. From the 11th to the 17th of January, CHRM College conducted an Advanced Excel Training for Grant Thornton Kenya, with a total of 11 participants. This event provided an excellent opportunity for Grant Thornton to delve deeper into Excel, discovering how to seamlessly integrate it into their day-to-day activities.

The training focused on fundamental formulas, basic lookup functions, data controls and maximizing the power of pivot tables, among other key areas. By the end of the program, participants gained a comprehensive understanding of Excel's capabilities, equipping them with practical skills to enhance their efficiency and productivity.

Empowering Futures: CHRM College's Book Drive Lights Up the faces of kids in Kibera

In December, we launched a significant book collection drive for a community library. On Monday, January 29, 2024, CHRM College visited the Amani Kibera Community Library, bringing along books and stationery collected from our students, alumni and dedicated staff. Our goal was to make a meaningful impact on the educational resources available to the community. The visit was graced by our esteemed Principal, CHRP Margaret K. Kinyanjui and our Acting Deputy Principal, CHRP Abed Katua, both of whom passionately shared insights into CHRM College's enduring commitment to offering support whenever and wherever possible.

This event not only exemplified our college's dedication to community engagement but also underscored the transformative power of education. Witnessing the joy on the children's faces and knowing that we played a role in brightening their educational journey was a source of immense pride and fulfillment.

Throughout the visit, we had engaging discussions between the CHRM College team and the Amani Kibera team, led by Ben Ooko, the Co-founder and Director of the Community Library. Partnering with Amani Kibera presents a unique opportunity for CHRM College to contribute meaningfully to the community's development. Potential avenues for collaboration include capacity building through short courses, consultation on HR matters, among others. CHRM College has committed to immediately assisting in the training of the center's library staff through collaboration with our William Gitobu Memorial Library.

Moving forward, we will work hand in hand with the Amani Kibera Community Library team and our shared commitment to education and empowerment will undoubtedly pave the way for a brighter and more promising future.
